

David Cotterrell: Website Relunched - 15.04.09

Date: 15th April 2009

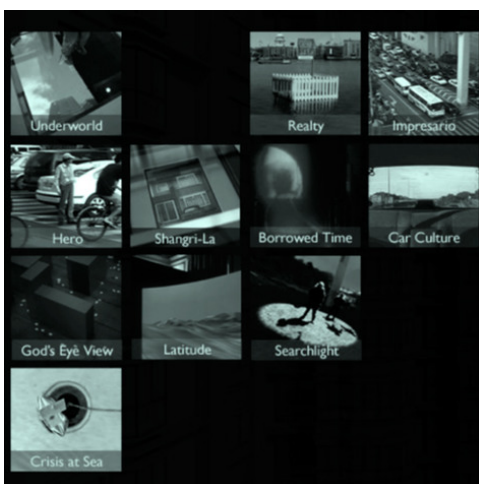

Nearly ten years after the first attempt at creating a web-site to document my work was launched, a new site has been created. Unlike previous incarnations, this site can be updated and will provide a growing archive of artworks, exhibitions, publications and other activity.

Subscribe to the RSS feed, visit the YouTube channel, follow with Twitter or just browse through the eclectic material developed over fifteen years of experimental practice.
