

David Cotterrell: Culture and Consequence

Event Name: LCACE Arts and Ethics Conference

Venue/Location: Kings' College London

Date: 12th June 2008

Supporting Organisation(s):

LCACE (London Centre for Arts and Cultural Exchange)

Chair/Other Speakers:

Sophie Hope (Space Media Arts); Gini Simpson and Nigel Osborne

At the heart of the event was a desire to examine the sometimes uncomfortable relationships between arts and ethics with a view to exploring how, if or indeed should the arts be expected to be ethical.

The poster features the LCACE logo at the top left, which consists of a colorful starburst shape above the text 'LCACE London Centre for Arts and Cultural Exchange'. Below the logo, the main title 'CULTURE AND CONSEQUENCE: THE ROLE OF ETHICS IN THE ARTS TODAY' is displayed in large, bold, black capital letters. To the right of the title, there is a block of text providing details about the event, including its purpose, themes, and a list of confirmed speakers. At the bottom left, there is a small purple box with the text 'All your tickets go to good causes'.

Culture and Consequence is a one-day conference produced by LCACE in partnership with the Cultural Leadership Programme.

The aim of the day is to provide a platform to open up for wider discussion some of the key ethical issues emerging for the arts and cultural sectors now.

At the heart of the event there is a desire to examine the sometimes uncomfortable relationships between arts and ethics with a view to exploring how, if or indeed should the arts be expected to be ethical.

The day will provide timely and provocative presentations as well as a range of panel discussions that will attempt to unpick the following themes and their relationship with the arts:

- Profit and Value
- Public Space
- Human Rights and Human Goods
- Faith and Conflict

The event will be of interest to artists, academics, arts organizations, cultural practitioners and policy-making bodies.

Confirmed speakers include Baroness Susan Greenfield • Julie Kelly (Artistic Director Southbank Centre) • Dr Roland Dalton • Professor Adam Andersson (University of Copenhagen) • Hasan Bakhteh (NESTA) • Jo Widdow • Matty Pearson (Creative Commons) • Jonathan Holmes • Dan Gifford (Platform London) • Gary McKee • Professor Ben Quash (King's College London) • Professor Daniela Simeoni (King's College London) • Rhonda Wilson (Richard's Rewards) • June D • Nigel Osborne • Gini Simpson (Space Media Arts) • Michael Symmons Roberts • David Cotterrell • Sophie Hope

Please visit the LCACE website for an updated list of speakers.

Please visit <http://www.lcace.org.uk/events/index.php?event=69> to view the conference time-table and to make a booking.

For more information, please contact us on 0207 420 9444

Conference Publicity (2008)