BBC Radio 4

Date: 17th November 2008

David's work at the Wellcome Collection is discussed on BBC Radio 4's Start the Week.

Wars may bring death and injury but the battlefield can also pioneer advances for civilian medicine. Ken Arnold from the Wellcome Collection explains how many of our domestic systems of ambulances, triage and nutrition are all the direct results of wars. War and Medicine, a new exhibition exploring the impact of war on medicine, is at the Wellcome Collection in London from 22 November - 15 February 2009.
